Call 911 - Yes or No?

You fall off your bike and scrape your knees. They are both bleeding.	Your friend is not wearing a bike helmet. He falls off of his bike and slams his head on the street. He cannot move.
There is smoke coming out of your neighbor's window. There is no car in the driveway and he is not home.	Your grandfather touches his chest and says he has to sit down. He seems out of breath. He sits down and shuts his eyes. You call his name and he does not respond.
Your sister has a fever and has been coughing a lot. She lays down in her bed and falls asleep.	Your dog has not been eating well and is losing a lot of weight. You are suddenly worried that he might be very sick.
Your Mom is watching TV and falls asleep on the couch.	You hear the sound of glass breaking. You look outside and see the neighbor across the street has a broken window in the front of the house. No one seems to be around.
A man in a uniform comes to your door with a big box and rings your doorbell. He is a stranger because you have never met him.	You are at the park and see a little boy with a bloody nose. His Mom has him sit on the bench and holds a tissue to his nose.

Using the data table and the graph, answer the questions.

The data in the table represents the grade 7 students earned on homework (effort) and the grade those same students earned on their exam.

1. Plot the data from the table onto the grid.
2. Draw a line of best fit.
3. Choose two points from the line of best fit (not plotted points).
4. Using the two points you have chosen, determine the slope of the line of best fit.
5. Select one of the two points you used to find the slope of line of best fit, along with the slope you have just calculated and substitute the data into the Slope-Intercept formula to find where your line of best fit intersects the y-axis.
6. Using the slope of the line of best fit and the y-intercept you just calculated, write a formula in Slope-intercept form for the line of best fit.
7. Using the formula you just constructed, extrapolate the exam score for a student who earns a 90% average on their homework.
8. Using the formula you just constructed, determine what the average homework score would be for a

Geography Germany Japan South America Narrative Writing Narrative Writing Prepare for a world of writing with this packet of exercises, tools and tips. Here are ways to find printable worksheets for kids. Parenting Blogs and Websites Visiting parenting blogs and websites offers you a variety of opportunities for finding free printable worksheets for kids. When children need extra practice using their reading skills, it helps to have worksheets available. Many of these blogs and websites cater to children of all ages, but some of them are age specific. Book publishers sometimes produce worksheets to pair with their books. It's also a great way for parents to get in extra practice with their children over the summer, or when they're struggling. Although they're usually designed for use with the company's program, you can use them for other lessons. If your school doesn't have this information, search other school websites to see what they're offering. Use a Traditional Search Engine When you input phrases such as "free printable worksheets" or something similar into the search bar of your favorite search engine, you'll receive results directing you to a broad range of sites offering printables for free. Be sure you're looking in the right place when you're searching for free-to-print worksheets to ensure they're age appropriate. Look at Educational Websites and Blogs There are a broad range of educational websites and blogs catering to teachers, homeschooling parents and parents who want to help their children with advancement or overcoming struggles. You can also refine your search so it includes age, grade level and subject. You can find reading passages with question sets and vocabulary support to help children practice and improve their reading skills. If you're looking for materials to use in a homeschool setting or for after-school practice, check out these sites. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Prev < 1 2 3 ... This makes it easy to find worksheets that meet the child's specific needs. 4 > Next Geography worksheets can be a valuable resource for teachers and students looking for activities and information related to both U.S. states and foreign countries. Many of these collections are themed by genre or subject matter. You'll find worksheet that include ABC letters to print for free, as well as math sheets to print out. Under some circumstances, teachers will also operate individual webpages that offer free printable worksheets to help their students engage in fun activities when they're not in the classroom, or so they can continue learning throughout the summer. The resources also include crossword puzzles, vocabulary worksheets, alphabet-ordering activities and explanations of geographical terms—such as isthmus, island and archipelago. If you refine your search to include a specific type of worksheet (like learning to print the alphabet), your search results will produce free worksheets specifically for that task. Students learn a few ways to spice up writing, like sensory words, action verbs, supporting details, and point of view. 3rd grade Reading & Writing Teaching children to read is an important skill they'll use for the rest of their lives. Each link leads you to a page featuring general background about the subject, whether it be countries like Germany and Japan, or states like Alaska and Nevada. On the ReadWorks website, you can search for worksheets by grade level, text type and topic. Because these programs are geared toward children learning the English language, they incorporate social studies and science lessons along with the reading skills. Nonprofit Literacy Groups Organizations like ReadWorks and edHelper have reading comprehension worksheets available on their websites. This makes it easy to select worksheets that match the child's interest or to build background knowledge in specific areas. Teacher Resource Sites Whether you're a teacher or a parent, teacher resource websites are another option for finding reading worksheets. Teacher Websites There are several teacher websites where you can download reading comprehension worksheets they created for their classrooms. Many follow the formats used on state and local tests that measure reading ability. English learner sites are other good sources. These worksheets usually are samples from the books they publish so that you can preview the content. Some sites like Teachers Pay Teachers let teachers upload worksheets they've created and offer them for sale. These sites also include printables for learning about science, history and reading comprehension. Check Out Book- or Publishing-Related Websites Book- and publishing-related websites will often offer free printable worksheets. In addition to the worksheets, you get access to a community of educators who can help you find the right materials for your children. Literacy Programs Even for-profit literacy programs offer free worksheets for parents and teachers. Use this worksheet with their lesson Dashing Descriptions. They might also provide free coloring pages, puzzles and other fun activities. Don't Forget Your School Sometimes a school website will post a blog or feature information on their library's website that includes free printable worksheets. If you're looking for additional practice while reading a specific book, check out their websites for graphic organizers and comprehension questions.You also can purchase collections of traditional and homeschool worksheets for reading level. One advantage of using these worksheets is that they are designed for specific reading levels and have been tested in a classroom. Finding free printable worksheets is an excellent way for teachers and homeschooling parents to save on their budgets. For example, if they print workbooks or other types of reading materials for educators, homeschooling parents or parents who participate in summer bridge learning programs, you could find award certificates to print and other free worksheets to support your curriculum on these websites. The teachers sometimes include anecdotal notes and tips for making the worksheets more effective.Publisher WebsitesPublishers of textbooks, education research and professional development books sometimes offer worksheets on their websites. Others are more collaborative and give teachers a place to share best practices and materials with others. In addition to offering printable coloring pages, many of these sites present educational printables for free as well. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET It's time to get descriptive!
